

FIELD TRIP REPORT OF REGIONAL PUBLICATIONS OFFICER, CAIRO

February 20-March 15, 1961

I. ADEN - Aden

A. Official Contacts

1. Stephen J. Campbell, Consul;
2. Gregory Gay, Part-time Publications Officer.

B. Bookstores Visited

Several bookstores were visited in all sections.

C. Names of Useful Contacts to PO Program

1. Mr. Ali;
2. American Consulate.

D. Comments

Practically nothing is published in Aden except for a few items which were forwarded to the Department. A list of newspapers and periodicals published here is attached (Attachment A). Arabic bookstores display Egyptian and Lebanese books, newspapers, and periodicals. The Egyptian publications, JUMHURIYYEH and AL-MASA', and the Lebanese, AL-KIFAH, are banned.

II. SAUDI ARABIA - Jidda

A. Official Contacts

1. Donald R. Heath, A. E. and P. of Embassy;
2. Richard H. Hawkins, Jr., DCM of Embassy;
3. Coradino E. Gatti, Part-time Publications Officer;
4. Isa K. Sabbagh, PAO, USIA;
5. Jamil Hujaylan, Director-General of Saudi Press, Information & Broadcasting;
6. Muhammad Husayn al-Asbahani, Director-General of Asbahani's House for Printing & Publishing;
7. Muhammad Husayn Zaydan, Chief Editor of AL-BILAD AS-SAUDIYA;
8. Aziz Diya', Director-General of Press, Printing & Publishing House;
9. Shaykh Ahmad Attar, Chief Editor of 'UKAZ and well-known Saudi author.

B. Names of Useful

~~CONFIDENTIAL - USE ONLY~~

B. Names of Useful Contacts to PO Program

C. Comments

The Director-General of Saudi Press, Information & Broadcasting was extremely cooperative, promising to forward to the Part-time PO at the Embassy copies of everything published by the Government. Asbahani and Diya' gave samples of practically all their publications to the RPO. No Soviet or Soviet Bloc publications could be seen anywhere in Saudi Arabia. Most available publications in Jidda, including dailies and periodicals, are from the UAR and Lebanon.

III. SAUDI ARABIA - Dhahran

A. Official Contacts

1. Walter K. Schwinn, Consul-General;
2. Walter M. McClelland;
3. Samuel C. Keiter - Part-time Publications Officer;
4. Mr. Mulligan, Chief of ARAMCO Publications.

B. Bookstores Visited

Ramadan closed the doors of practically all bookstores in Saudi Arabia.

C. Names of Useful Contacts to PO Program

1. Mr. (William?) Mulligan, ARAMCO.

D. Comments

No Saudi publications are issued in Dhahran. ARAMCO, on the other hand, issues quite a few useful publications, a list of which is enclosed (Attachment B). Mr. Mulligan promised to give the Consulate General as many copies as needed. Egyptian and Lebanese newspapers and other publications are available.

IV. KUWAIT - Kuwait

A. Official Contacts

1. James E. Akins, Consul;
2. Richard P. Mitchell;
3. Badr Khalik

OFFICIAL USE ONLY

OFFICIAL USE ONLY

3. Badr Khalid al-Badr, Director of Kuwait's Printing and Publishing Department.

B. Bookstores Visited

1. An-Nahdah Bookstore;
2. Port Sa'id Bookstore;
3. Ashraf Bookstore;
4. Egypt Bookstore;
5. The Bookstore.

C. Names of Useful Contacts to PO Program

1. Abd-al-Karim S. Saad, Owner of An-Nahdah, P. O. Box 1944, Kuwait. (Saad wishes to stock Franklin Publications.)

D. Comments

Practically nothing is published privately in Kuwait. All publications are issued by the Government of Kuwait. Shaykh Badr informed the RPO that the Press Law has been passed and within the next week (approximately March 11) seven dailies and weeklies, already approved, will be announced. The Consulate said that he would report on them. Badr gave samples of his department's publications to the RPO and was extremely cordial. He also presented him with three copies of Lillian-thal's "There Goes the Middle East," which the Kuwaiti Government appears to be handing out as a gift.

V. IRAQ - Basra

A. Official Contacts

1. John A. Billings, Consul;
2. Noble M. Melencamp - Part-time PO.

B. Bookstores Visited

1. Farjo Bookstore - comparatively large, but disarranged. Mostly English books;
2. Ash-Sharq Bookstore - medium size; mostly English books;
3. Lil-Jami' (for all) Bookstore - largest in Basra; well-stocked in all Arabic publications.

C. Comments

Basra has no bookstores other than those mentioned above, but can boast of many sidewalk newsstands featuring newspapers, periodicals, and cheap books.

OFFICIAL USE ONLY

and cheap books. Most of the material is from Cairo and Beirut. One heartening aspect is the almost complete absence of Communist publications, except for a couple Arabic periodicals from Bulgaria which could be seen on the newsstands and for a few Soviet Communist theoretical works in the bookstores. No Soviet or Chinese periodicals could be found anywhere. A few publications and samples of newspapers published in Basra have been sent to the Department.

VI. IRAQ - Baghdad

A. Official Contacts

1. Robert H. Munn, 2nd Secretary;
2. George K. Adams, newly-named Part-time PO;
3. Dr. Nasir al-Hani, Director-General of Public Relations, Foreign Ministry;
4. Hisham al-Tabaqchali, Director, Diplomatic Corps, Protocol Department, Foreign Ministry;
5. Dr. Abd al-Razzaq al-Jalili, Director-General of Cultural Affairs, Ministry of Education;
6. Dr. Taha al-Haj Elias, Director-General of Technical Affairs, Ministry of Education;
7. Sa'd Abd al-Wahab Nadir, Director of Textbooks and Curricula, Ministry of Education;
8. Mihad Abd al-Majid, Director of Public and School Libraries, Ministry of Education;
9. Dr. Abd Al-Muttalib Abd al-Rahman, Director of Editing and Translation, Ministry of Education;
10. Husayn Wahhabi, Director of the Central Public Library, Baghdad;
11. Abd al-Karim al-Amin, Director of the Mobile Library;
12. Dr. Hisham al-Shawaf, Director of the Central Library, Baghdad University (would like to receive a few textbook lists of various universities which are used for teaching scientific and technical material);
13. Miss Zahida, Chief Librarian.

B. Bookstores Visited

1. Al-Ahliyyah Bookstore;
2. Al-Maarif Bookstore;
3. Al-'Ulum Bookstore;
4. An-Nahdah Bookstore;
5. Al-'Asriyyah Bookstore;
6. Al-Muthannah Bookstore.

C. Names of Useful Contacts to PO Program

1. Miss Zahida, Chief Librarian, Central Library of Baghdad University;
2. Mahmud Hilmi,

OFFICIAL USE ONLY

2. Mahmud Hilmi, owner of Al-'Asriyyah Bookstore.

D. Comments

The RPO, accompanied by Messrs, Munn and Adams, spent two mornings seeing various officials of the Foreign Ministry and Ministry of Education (as listed above). Great effort was expended in obtaining textbooks presently used at all school levels, plus various government publications. The officials promised to deliver the textbooks to Mr. Adams that weekend (March 11, 12) for pouching to the Department. In order to effect the acquisition of government publications and textbooks, the RPO sent a formal note to the Foreign Ministry and a letter, copy of which is attached (Attachment C), was to be hand-carried by Mr. Adams when he picked up the promised material. The RPO also visited the Central Library of Baghdad University. This institution is the depository for all government publications, some of which he was able to obtain here. One particular publication which is believed to be of utmost interest and which was airmailed to the Department, is entitled "Communications and Bridges of Iraq." Lists of publications available for exchange and theses available at Baghdad University Central Library are attached (Attachments D and E).

This visit to the various offices of the Education Ministry, aside from being fruitful to the publication acquisition operation, uncovered a significant fact, according to Mr. Munn, which is that the new officers are all newly-appointed to the positions, replacing the Communists who have been purged from the Ministry of Education. A separate report on this will be forthcoming by Mr. Munn.

Another indication that the Communists are losing favor in Baghdad is the few Communist publications available. This is in contrast to the tremendous amount of Communist material noted by the RPO on his last visit to this city over a year ago.

VII. LEBANON - Beirut

Since the RPO became ill at Beirut, no formal trip report was forwarded for this post. The following comments were contained in a recent letter from him:

"As for Beirut, it seems to be forging ahead rapidly in the publications field. Many new publications were purchased there and have been sent. Of course, Beirut, as you well know, offers all sorts of pocket-book series, etc. A great amount of the output of the new publications seems to be translations of American and European historical, biographic, political, and scientific works."

ATTACHMENT C:

Baghdad, March 8, 1961.

Dear Dr. Elias:

With reference to our conversation of March 7, 1961, I wish to thank you for your assistance and cooperation. It was indeed fortunate that Dr. Nasir al-Hani, Director General of Public Relations at the Foreign Ministry, referred me to you for help in our program of broadening American understanding of Iraq and the Arab countries, and of studying the ways in which we might be of assistance in encouraging the publication of technical, scientific and vocational text and reference material in forms which may be of greater assistance to all Arab educational institutions.

As I mentioned, the Publications Department of the Department of State, which works closely with the Library of Congress and other similar institutions, will greatly appreciate receiving copies of the text books being used currently in Iraqi primary, intermediate and secondary schools. These will be made available to scholars and others in the general interest of encouraging understanding, but perhaps more importantly, a study of these and similar materials from other Arab countries will enable us to determine where and how we can be of the most assistance in producing low-cost text and reference material tailored to be of use to students in the Middle East, without duplicating the materials which you and others may already have prepared. Copies of the textbooks, in duplicate if possible, will be picked up by my local assistant, Mr. Adams, who will see that they are promptly forwarded to Washington.

One of your officials asked whether or not my request was "official." I assure you that it is. Not only does the Cultural Agreement between our countries provide for and encourage the exchange of such materials, but also my first act upon arrival in Baghdad was to present myself in my official capacity of Regional Publications Officer at the Foreign Ministry, where I explained the purpose of my visit to Dr. Hani and was assured of his cooperation. The Embassy in Baghdad is sending the Foreign Ministry a formal note on the matter in addition, since calls on other Ministries and offices will be made.

Thank you again,

Dr. Taha al-Haj Elias,
Director General of Technical Affairs,
Ministry of Education,
Baghdad.

Thank you again, Dr. Elias, and please convey my thanks also to Dr. Jalili, Dr. Abd al-Rahman, Mr. Abd al-Majid, and Mr. Sa'd Nadir, all of whom were most cordial and helpful.

Very truly yours,

Anthony E. Lewis
Regional Publications Officer
Department of State
